COVER PICTURE

This picture, done from a photograph by the late Walter Dexter in the early part of this century, pictures the old mill, now gone, and the Dexter elm still standing on Route 6 across from Tub Mill Brook. Our thanks to Mr. Ernest Dexter for the old photograph. Please don't forget that the Presto gives a gift every week for news. The name of every person who sends in news by phone, coupon or in person are placed in a hat to be drawn every week and we give a gift to the winner, presented by one of our advertisers, who bring you the Presto through their advertising. Last week the prize was the cover picture of "The Wanderer" on fine paper, matted and suitable for framing. Please send us the news from your neighborhood and be in on the drawing for the prize. The prize next week will be a picture of the wharf, matted and ready to be framed. An additional prize is being given every week by Dot's Donut Shop. A beautiful set of knives is the prize and all you have to do is sign your name at Dot's or the Volkommen Card Shop on Church Street.

Mattapoisett, who received the prize of the picture "The Wanderer" last week, happens to be (without the knowledge of the Presto Press) a relative of the builder of the Wanderer, Josiah Holmes. Josiah was her great grandfather and also a great grandfather of Miss Sparrow's cousin, Mr. Lemuel LeBaron Dexter. Josiah Holmes' shipyard was where Shipyard Park and Holmes' wharf is now. Josiah and his brother, Jonathan Holmes, lived in the big white house owned now by Mr. Willis Munroe. It was a duplex house at that time.

BAPTIST CHURCH SPONSORS OF HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Long Plain Baptist Church of Rochester sponsored a Halloween Party at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Frazer Hartley of Hartley Road, Rochester.

Picked from thirty-five colorful costumed contestants were Rev. Stanley Decker as Father Time for the most original; Tom Linden as a spinster for the funniest; Helen Church as a bride for the most horrible; Muriel Barsdale as a Chinese for the prettiest and Margaret Cameron as a hobo for the most mysterious.

Latecomers were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harding as boy and girl space cadets receiving honorable mention.

The grand march was followed by a scavenger hunt taking the hunters all over Rochester and Acushnet and including such items as a policeman's signature on a raw egg, epitaph from a headstone in the Sherman Cemetery, an old fashioned button hook, stack of freshly made pancakes, kiddie car and ice tongs.

The hunt winners were Margaret Cameron, Helen Church, Betty Weigel, James Tripp, Harry and Vel Gordon.

The games were high lighted by bobbing for apples, passing the remains of the old man, barnyard music, clumsy hands and self portraits.

Refreshments were served cafeteria style

SOME THOUGHTS OF MINE

MOTHER

by Murray D. Tuttle

Mother seems to be the one who starts us
on our way,
Who plans and shapes the lives of us every busy day.
She gets up every morning to do her daily
chore
Of looking after everyone as she's always done before.

Her thoughts are of her family from Papa to her son.
Her daughters too must share her care; her work is never done.
Breakfast she has first to get before she can begin.
The children must be washed and fed; dirt is such a sin.

There's floors to sweep and dustin' too,
which isn't too much fun
And there's lots of other things that surely must be done.
The forenoon passes quickly, ere she has had a chance
To start the dinner cooking or mend little Billie's pants.

Papa takes his dinner, which helps her quite a lot;
She only feeds the children from the eldest to the tot.
The dinner must be nourishing to keep the family well
And also keep um happy for quite a little spell.

In the afternoon she may go out to get a little rest;
Then home she goes again to her happy little nest.
'Tis supper time and all are there, hungry as can be.
She has to think of something good, ere she can make the tea.

All are there without a thought of what her life is like;
For Dad down to the baby all day she has to hike,
But seldom ever she complains about her troubles of the day.
She works from twelve to fifteen hours without a cent of pay.

But she is very happy with the family she has got Enjoying all the work she does even when it's hot.
And so I say a Mother's life is full of work and worry
She nere forgets a single one though she is in a hurry.

So let us give three cheers for her, a Mother sweet devine.
There'll ner be others like her in all

And let us not forget her when we go out

STATUE OF LIBERTY ANNIVERSARY

As we go to press, it is so close to the 68th anniversary of the dedication of the Statue of Liberty on Bedlos' Island in New York Harbor, it seemed a fitting time to remind you of a Mattapoisett resident closely tied in with the original dedication. One of the names engraved on its base is that of Capt. Numa Perrier who was the grandfather of Mrs. Malcolm Coderre of Water Street, Mattapoisett.

On October 30, 1953, Charles H. Leach of the Pawtucket Times, in his Memory Lane column, made considerable mention of the origianl dedication and of Capt. Perrier and his daughters Emma and Clemence Perrier.

Capt. Perrier, at the age of 20, answered the call to arms by joining the 63rd regiment serving throughout the Crimean War in 1854-56 becoming a corporal. He served in Russia after the victory occupation, and in Paris until the war with Italy broke out, serving through this.

After becoming a silk manufacturer in Paris and entering into matrimony in 1870, he answered another call to arms for the National Defense and was made a captain. He was awarded a medal by the French government for his part in releasing French captives from captive guards after the fall of Paris. This medal was not received until years later, just before he died in the city of Pawtucket. He had transferred his silk making machinery to Patterson New Jersey, and started operations there. It was here he became captain of the Guard Lafayette, a group of French expatriots formed to keep alive the memory of France's suffering and in honor of Count Lafayette who aided us in our own revolution.

As an officer of this company, he was asked by France to be present at the unveiling of the Statue of Liberty. Thus, he was so honored by having his name engraved on its pedestal.

His daughters Emma and Clemence still have the medal proudly treasured. His son, Dr. Casimir E. Perrier, is well known by many throughout this area.

We are indeed indebted to Mrs. Coderre

For the Home and Community Service, Martha Heuberger received first prize for her doll's dress; Ruth Benoit won second prize for her sleeveless blouse; Patricia Oliveria and Barbara DeRocha won first prize for their tree scrapbook; and Oliver Moreau won the prize for his Bird and Conservation Work.

Denise Johnson received honorable mention for her grange news scrapbook.

Four granges from different sections of the state were represented at the meeting.

CHRISTMAS CARDS TO VETERANS

The Mattapoisett Florence Eastman Post 280, American Legion will mail Christmas cards to all members of the armed services from the town. So that the list may be complete, the legion requests that parents give addresses or change of addresses to any member.

You can get quicker service on your dry cleaning but you can't get a better looking job. When you take your clothes to The Town Shop--they are cleaned not just once, but three times. The machinery is the very latest and the only one in these parts. No harmful chemicals are used and your clothes are handled at all times by qualified skilled workers.

It pays to bring your garments to The Town Shop where you get your suit or dress cleaned for only $1.00. Your clothes will be ready on Wednesday or Saturday.
